Passengers floating hotel that floated past the view of the cheering, swarming camp below, was a more than a mere trip. It was a trip to the White Star Line, which had put into the water a floating hotel, which had been built for the purpose of giving the passengers a more comfortable trip than the ordinary ferryboat. These dispatches passed, through an Evening Star correspondent, between the Mayor of Southampton and New York: The Mayor's Palace, Municipal Buildings, Southampton.

Mayor and his fellow townsmen of Southampton and his fellow citizens of New York upon the advent of the Olympic, another link in the chain of friendship binding our two countries together in terms of peace and amity.

Mayor, Mayor of Southampton.

C. E. MILLEN A SUICIDE.

Representative of Grape Juice Company Killed Himself at Astor House.

C. E. Milten, one of the New York representatives of the Frank L. Milten & Bros. Grape Juice Company of Watkins, N. Y., was found dead in bed at the Astor House yesterday with a bullet wound in his head.

Mr. Milten registered at the hotel late on Monday afternoon as E. Miller of Elizabeth, N. J., and was assigned to a room on the second floor. He was not seen about the hotel on Tuesday, and when a knock was made at his door yesterday there was no answer.

His room was opened by a maid, and he was found lying on the bed, apparently dead. A revolver, apparently new, lay beside Mr. Milten, and on a table near the bed were letters, a newspaper and a small box.

Mr. Milten, a cousin of C. E. Milten and associated with him as the local representative of the company, said that he knew of nothing in Mr. Milten's business or private life that would account for his suicide. His cousin traveled about the State in the interests of the firm and on Monday night had called on the office at 11 Hudson street and talked with Mr. Milten about some business matters of no particular importance. There had been no reason for C. E. Milten to visit the office and he had not seen him since.

Mr. Milten lived with his wife and an eight-year-old daughter at the Brooklyn address. He was about 40 years old. When he registered at the hotel he carried only a small bag. In his pockets were found a few dollars.

Mrs. Carl Milten and her eight-year-old daughter Vivian left their home in 252 West 11th street, Brooklyn, yesterday morning, and she has been to her mother's home in New Jersey. Milten had lived in New Jersey for more than ten years. His four brothers and father still live in houses in the neighborhood five years ago and moved to Watkins, N. Y.

KILLED BY LONG FALL.

John C. Almour Had Worried Over Ill Health and Business Troubles.

A fall from a fourteenth story window of the Home Life Insurance Building caused the death yesterday morning of John C. Almour, a public accountant who had desk room in the offices of Elton S. Hobbs, a lawyer.

Mr. Almour came over from his home at 980 Bergen street, Brooklyn, earlier than his custom and got to his office a little after 8 o'clock, before any one else had arrived. A few minutes later he heard the crash of Mr. Almour's body in the court on which the offices of both men are located. It had struck on an iron grate on the third floor and had broken the metal railing.

Mr. Almour had been ill for a long time. He was subject to attacks of indigestion due to worry over business troubles. He often complained that he felt faint. Only a week ago he came to Mr. Hobbs with a weak and nervous, and told him that he was going to resign from his position. He said he feared he might die suddenly and he gave Mr. Hobbs a statement of his affairs to be used "in case anything happened."

On Tuesday night Mr. Almour and his wife were out together and she said yesterday that he seemed a little better than usual. He was 39 years old and had no children.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

The area of high pressure from the central States moved northward into the Ohio States yesterday, crowding hard upon the depression, which had been over the Atlantic coast, and thereby causing high northwesterly winds over New England and on the middle Atlantic coast.

Shower and moderate rain fell in the Gulf and on the Atlantic States, but the depression became indolent. The pressure was low generally in the West and without any definite storm formation, although showers fell at various points over the West and on the middle Atlantic coast.

It was cooler in New England, New York, Pennsylvania and the lower Ohio region and warmer in the central valleys and the north Pacific States. In this city the day was fair and cooler, with a breeze from the north, average humidity, 54 per cent; barometer, corrected to read to sea level, 30.1, 30.0, 29.9, 29.8, 29.7, 29.6, 29.5, 29.4, 29.3,
